

Amy Hart

BA Grad Dip Bus
Senior Associate

+61 3 9606 3250
ahart@molinocahill.com.au

Amy Hart is a construction law specialist, with extensive experience acting on major public and private infrastructure and construction projects across Australia.

Amy has experience advising clients, both principals and contractors, on all stages of the project life-cycle with a particular focus on project delivery and dispute resolution.

Amy's experience includes

Acting for a D&C contractor pursuing high-value claims in connection with the construction of a rail infrastructure project.

–

Acting for Project Co in upstream and downstream arbitrations in relation to claims arising on a PPP project in South Australia.

–

Acting for Project Co in Supreme Court of Victoria proceedings in relation to defect claims arising on a large hospital infrastructure project in Victoria.

–

Providing claims management and dispute resolution advice relating to a major water infrastructure asset.

–

Assisting in the conduct of proceedings in the Supreme Court of Victoria on behalf of a managing contractor engaged to deliver the upgrade of a Victorian based prison complex.

–

Instructing Counsel on various matters including complex causation issues, limits of liability and the operation of contractual agreements in the context of a PPP model.

–

Assisting with a dispute against a head contractor in respect of extensions of time, variation and misleading or deceptive conduct claims in relation to a resources project in Western Australia.

–

Assisting in advising a subcontractor on statutory charges to secure payment against a principal and insolvent head contractor.

–

Advising a principal on pursuing recovery of damages under a contract works insurance policy.

–

Assisting to advise a major D&C contractor on its bid for two significant bulk earthworks packages for a new airport in Western Sydney.

–

Assisting to advise a D&C contractor on its bid for a high-value series of road upgrade packages in Melbourne to be delivered by PPP.

–

Assisting to advise a prospective equity investor in relation to the project documents for a metropolitan rail project in New South Wales.

–

Preparing a tender services agreement for use by a major contractor.

–

Preparing an amended standard form design subcontractor and construction contract for a solar farm project in Victoria.

Amy has been recognised as a Victorian Construction Law Rising Star on Doyle's Guide each year between 2022 to 2025.

Amy was admitted to practice in Victoria in 2017.